

Qabalah 1692

User Guide

for iPhone and iPad

A discovery into the history of 1692. Ask a question about the Salem Witch Trials, then go back — the Qabalah as your guide, the art placing you inside Salem Village in the year of the hysteria.

Version 1.0 (build 4) · deck bundle generation 25

Destructive AI Gurus, LLC

This app uses AI-generated content: the narration is the Author's own voice, AI-simulated from the Author's recordings with permission, and the illustrated artwork is AI-generated.

Contents

Part 1 — The app at a glance . . . 3
- What Qabalah 1692 is . . . 3
- See it and hear it . . . 3
- The features . . . 3
- How the screens connect . . . 4
- Good to know before you start . . . 4

Part 2 — Screen by screen . . . 5
- The opening screen . . . 5
- Home . . . 6
- About this app . . . 7
- The licence agreement . . . 8
- Choose your spread . . . 9
- The spread's opening panel . . . 10
- Ask into 1692 . . . 11
- How much shadow — the tone . . . 12
- The deck is in your hands . . . 13
- Working the deck . . . 14
- The table . . . 15
- The card . . . 16
- The card, full screen . . . 17
- Choose a Deck . . . 18
- View the Deck Cards . . . 19
- Roll the deck . . . 20
- Qabalah History . . . 21
- Listening to a stream . . . 22
- On iPad . . . 23

Part 3 — Every control . . . 24
- On the home screen . . . 24
- Opening the app . . . 25
- Going back . . . 25
- Doing a reading . . . 26
- Choosing a deck . . . 28
- The deck's cards . . . 28
- Qabalah History . . . 29

Appendix . . . 30
- The tones . . . 30
- The spreads . . . 30
- Words the app uses . . . 30
- If something is not right . . . 30
- Privacy and AI . . . 30
- About this guide . . . 31

Part 1 — The app at a glance

What Qabalah 1692 is

> A discovery into the history of 1692. Ask a question about the Salem Witch Trials, then go back — the Qabalah as your guide, the art placing you inside Salem Village in the year of the hysteria.
> The tones, the seats and the decks are different ways of looking at the same year. The reading explores the Trials; it does not tell your fortune.

— from the app's own About screen

Qabalah 1692 is a deck of 78 illustrated cards set in Salem Village in 1692. Each card has a reading upright and reversed, a reading for each seat of the Salem Nine, and its Union — and the app can read all of them aloud. You can ask a question and lay out a reading, listen to the whole deck as a guided history, or simply browse the cards.

Everything happens on your device. This app asks for no permissions, holds no accounts, and sends nothing anywhere. Because some US states require it, the app may also ask Apple for your age range (Apple may ask you to share it). The answer stays on your iPhone or iPad, is used for nothing else, and is not kept. The app needs no sign-in and no connection. It runs on iPhone and iPad with iOS 16 or later.

See it and hear it

> Narration is the Author's own voice, AI-simulated.

- Qabalah History — See it and hear it — every reading and every Union, read aloud. Pause and continue whenever you like.
  - Everything (1,716) — The Unions, then the Card Readings, then the Salem Nine — the Fool onward.
  - The Unions (156) — Each card's own interpretation. The longest readings in the deck.
  - The Card Readings (156) — Each card upright, then reversed, on its own.
  - The Salem Nine (1,404) — Every card read in each of the nine seats, the centre first.
- Roll the deck — A card at random, its Union spoken — all 78, no repeats, then shuffled again.
- Audio — Audio chooses what is read aloud (All, Reading, Qabalah or Off)
- The opening line. While Audio is on, the welcome is read aloud once each time the app opens, while the opening screen shows it in writing.

The features

Qabalah History

See it and hear it — every reading and every Union, read aloud. Pause and continue whenever you like. Four streams: Everything (1,716), The Unions (156), The Card Readings (156) and The Salem Nine (1,404).

Do a Reading

Ask into 1692 — one card, three, or the Salem Nine. Choose a spread, hold a question, choose how much

Choose a Deck

Two illustrated decks: The Union Tableau, which the app shadow you want, work the deck with your own hands, then deal and turn the cards one by one.

starts on, and The Qabalah. The cards and their words are the same in both; the pictures differ.

View the Deck Cards
All 78, face up. Browse every card, turn the whole deck reversed, open any card to read it, or roll the deck: a card at random, its Union spoken.

Audio and Graphics
Two settings on the home screen. Audio chooses what is read aloud (All, Reading, Qabalah or Off); Graphics chooses how the cards are drawn (Float, Spectrum or Straight). Both are remembered.

About this app
The standing information: the entertainment notice, the licence agreement, the privacy policy, how AI was used to make the app, the type, the licences and the deck bundle's own date.

How the screens connect

Home › Do a Reading › Choose your spread › The spread's panel › Ask into 1692 › Tone ›

The deck in your hands › Deal › The table › The card › Full screen

Home › Qabalah History › Choose a stream › Listening

Home › View the Deck Cards › A card › Full screen View the Deck Cards › Roll the deck

Home › Choose a Deck Home › About this app › Licence agreement

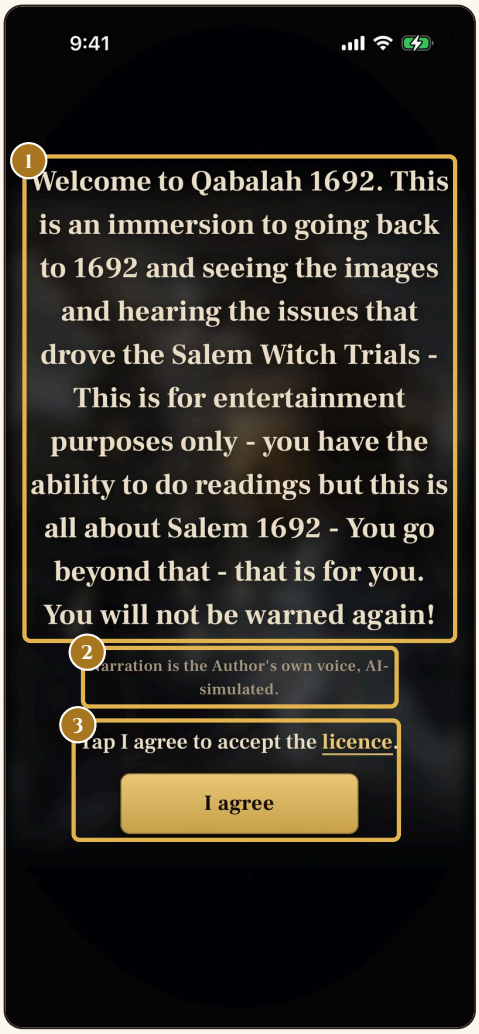

Good to know before you start

- The licence. The first time the app opens, the opening screen asks you to accept the licence: Tap I agree to accept the licence. Touch licence to read the whole agreement first. The app goes on only after I agree, and asks again only if the licence itself changes.
- Going back. Almost every screen carries its own way back: a ‹ Back link at the top, a Back button at the bottom, or the screen's own button (such as Stop). There is no swipe-from-the-edge gesture for going back. The one screen without a way back is the tone; choose a tone and take the deck.
- Sound. The narration plays even when the Ring/Silent switch is set to silent. Use the volume buttons, or set Audio to Off on the home screen. Changing Audio stops whatever is being read at that moment.
- The opening line. While Audio is on, the welcome is read aloud once each time the app opens, while the opening screen shows it in writing. Touch the screen to go straight on.
- The screen stays awake while Qabalah History or a roll of the deck is playing, and goes back to normal when you stop or leave the app.
- Turn your device sideways and the full-screen card, and the Qabalah History card, stretch to fill the screen (with Graphics on Float or Spectrum). Rotate first, then open the card; a stream catches up at its next card.
- What is remembered: that you accepted the licence, your Audio and Graphics settings, and where you were in each Qabalah History stream. The deck you choose applies until the app is closed; each new launch starts on The Union Tableau.
- Every reading is different. The cards you deal come from the deck as your own hands left it.

Part 2 — Screen by screen

Each screen below is shown as it appears on iPhone, with the parts that matter numbered. The text beside it says what each part is for. Every deal is different, so the cards in these pictures will not be the ones you see.

The opening screen

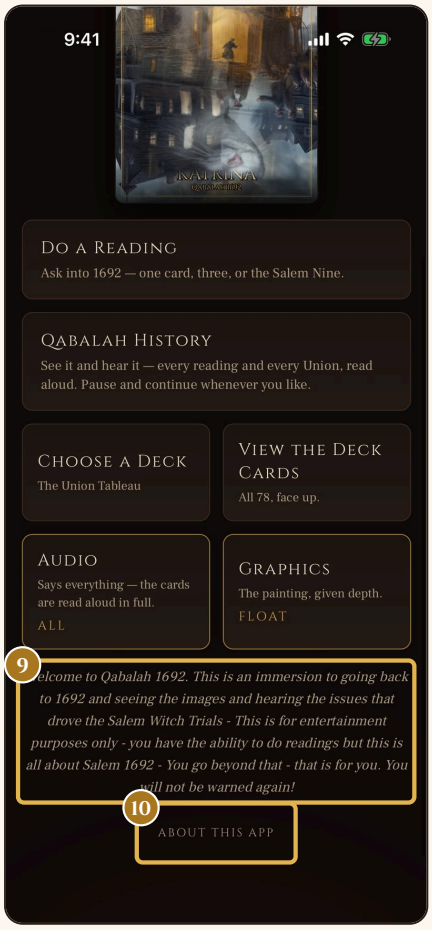

This is the first thing you see each time the app opens. The picture shows it the first time, when it also asks you to accept the licence.

1. The welcome The app's entertainment notice, in full. The same words appear at the foot of the home screen, under every reading and in About.
2. The narration line Narration is the Author's own voice, AI-simulated.
3. The licence Tap I agree to accept the licence. Touch licence to read the whole agreement; its ‹ Back brings you back here. I agree accepts it and opens the app.

Until you have accepted the licence, only I agree goes on. After that the screen shows the welcome and the narration line only, and it asks again only if the licence changes. While Audio is on, the welcome is read aloud and the screen stays up until it has been said. Touch anywhere to go straight to the home screen; the reading of it carries on over the home screen.

Home

1. Title The app's name, and under it the deck you are using.
2. The host card The deck's host. She is not one of the 78 cards and never appears in a reading.
3. Do a Reading Starts a reading.
4. Qabalah History The deck read aloud, card by card.
5. Choose a Deck Shows the deck in use; touch it to change decks.
6. View the Deck Cards All 78 cards, face up.
7. Audio What is read aloud. Touch to change.
8. Graphics How the cards are drawn. Touch to change.
9. The welcome The entertainment notice.
10. About this app The standing information.

On iPhone the home screen is taller than the display: scroll down for the notice and About this app.

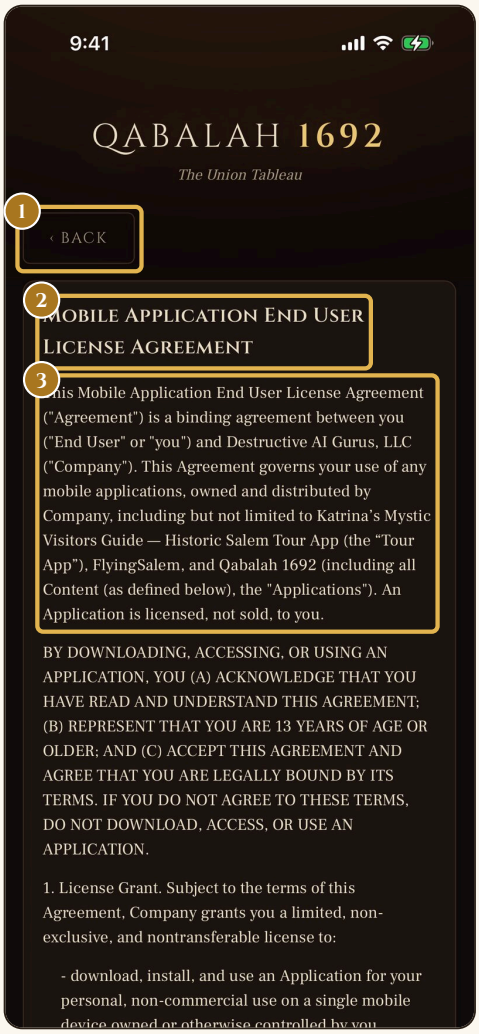

About this app

1. ‹ Back Returns to the home screen.
2. About the app What the app is, and the privacy statement: Everything happens on your device. This app asks for no permissions, holds no accounts, and sends nothing anywhere. Because some US states require it, the app may also ask Apple for your age range (Apple may ask you to share it). The answer stays on your iPhone or iPad, is used for nothing else, and is not kept.
3. Licence agreement Opens the licence agreement — the same text the opening screen asked you to accept.
4. Privacy policy destructiveaigurus.com/privacy/apps/ — touching it opens the page in your browser. The app itself loads nothing.
5. The welcome The entertainment notice.
6. The names of 1692 The names and the 1692 record this deck draws on belong to real people, and to their living descendants. Nothing here claims those trials were divinely or metaphysically caused. They were done by people, to people.
7. AI Generation How AI was used in the narration and the artwork, in the app's own words.
8. Type The typefaces, and where their licence travels inside the app.
9. The deck bundle Which generation of the deck is installed, and when it was built — useful if you ever report a problem. This guide shows generation 25, built 2026-09-29 22:55:37.
10. Licences and provenance Where each part of the app came from, under what licence.
11. Written text The sources of the app's words.
12. Narration How the narration was made, and how much there is.

13 This build The build's own deck bundle line.

The licence agreement

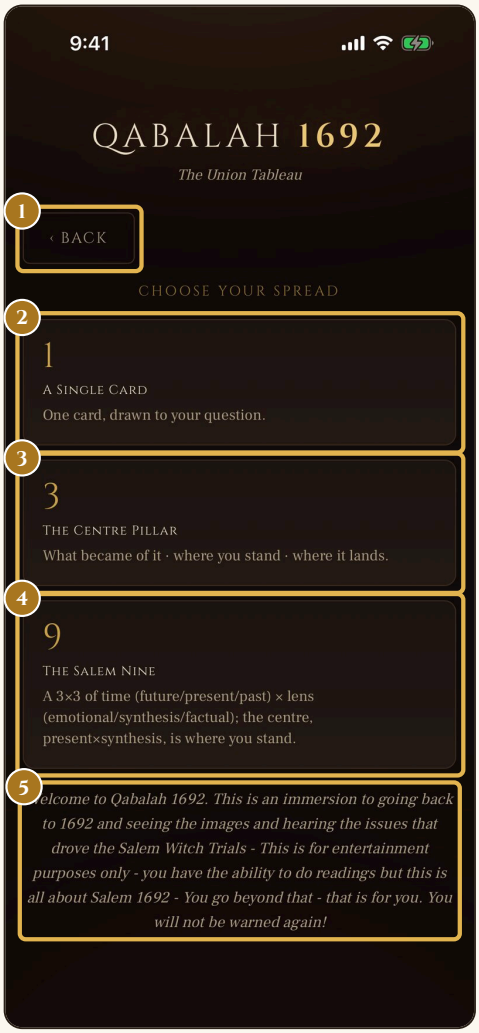

Reached from Licence agreement in About, or from licence on the opening screen.

1 ‹ Back Returns to About — or, when you came from the opening screen, back to its question.

2 The title The agreement's own title.

3 The agreement The full text, as written. Scroll down to read it all.

Choose your spread

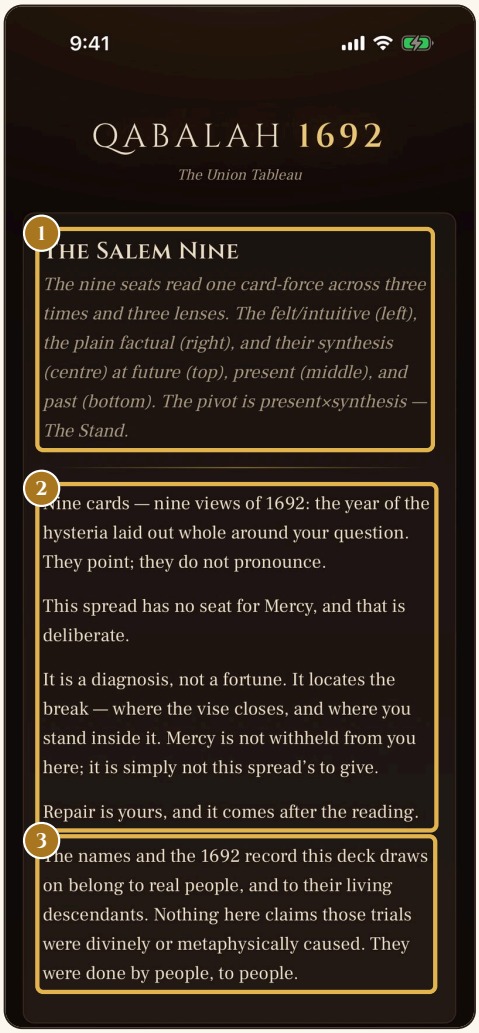

Reached from Do a Reading on the home screen.

1. ‹ Back Returns to the home screen.
2. A Single Card One card, drawn to your question.
3. The Centre Pillar Three cards in a row: What became of it · where you stand · where it lands.
4. The Salem Nine Nine cards in a 3×3 grid: A 3×3 of time (future/present/past) × lens (emotional/synthesis/factual); the centre, present×synthesis, is where you stand.
5. The welcome The entertainment notice.

The number on each tile is how many cards that spread deals. Touching a spread starts a new reading with a fresh deck.

The spread's opening panel

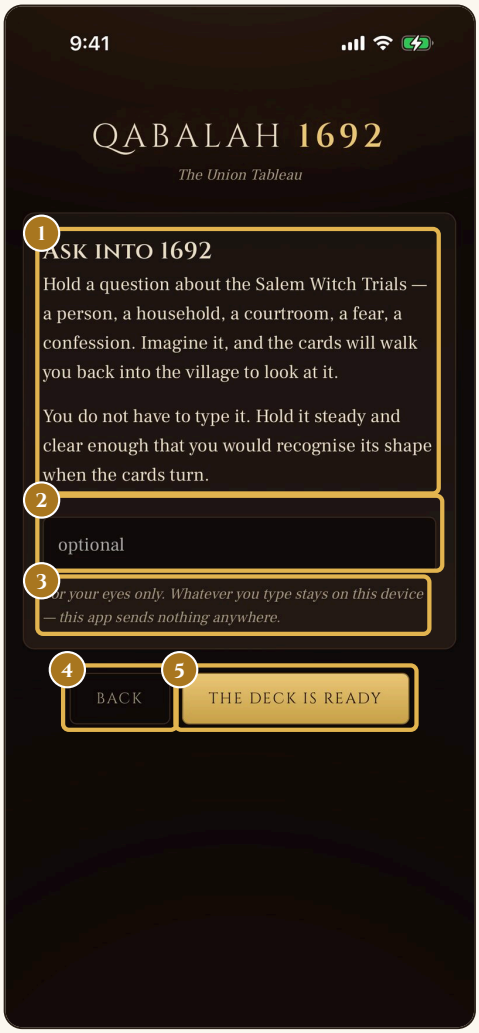

Before every reading, the spread you chose explains what it is and what it is not.

1. The spread Its name and how it lays out its cards.
2. What it says What this spread reads, and what it does not claim.
3. The names of 1692 The same standing line as in About.

Scroll down to the two buttons at the bottom: Back returns to the home screen, and I understand goes on to your question. A reading cannot be dealt without passing this panel.

Ask into 1692

1. Your question Hold a question about the Salem Witch Trials — a person, a household, a courtroom, a fear, a confession. Imagine it, and the cards will walk you back into the village to look at it.
2. The question field Optional. You do not have to type anything.
3. For your eyes only For your eyes only. Whatever you type stays on this device — this app sends nothing anywhere.
4. Back Returns to the spread's panel.
5. The deck is ready Goes on to the tone.

How much shadow — the tone

1. The question Before you turn them — how much shadow do you want to face?
2. The five tones Touch one to choose it; the chosen tone is lit. Reality is chosen to begin with.
3. What it means The chosen tone, described in a line.
4. Take the deck Goes on to the deck.

Harmony	every card upright — the reading is asked to keep its light
Hope	two in three upright — shadow present, but outnumbered
Reality	an honest coin for each card — it falls where it falls
Disturbing	two in three reversed — the shadow has the floor
Darkness	every card reversed — the reading is asked for its worst

Reality deals the cards exactly as your deck work left them. The other tones turn over as few of the dealt cards as they need to. This screen has no Back button: choose a tone and take the deck.

The deck is in your hands

As it comes to you.

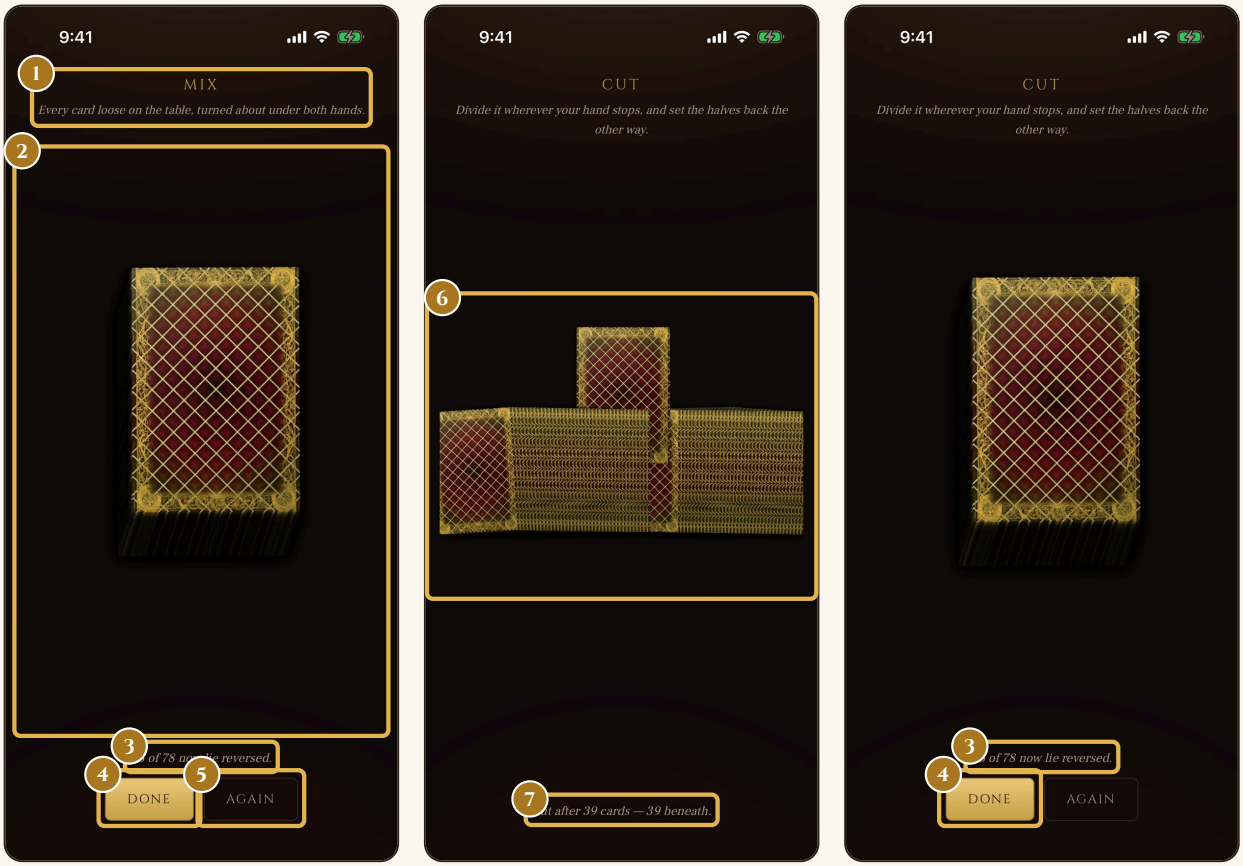

After a mix and a cut.

1. The state of the deck How many cards, how many lie reversed, and what has been done to it so far.
2. Mix Every card loose on the table, turned about under both hands.
3. Shuffle Split it and let the two halves fall together. Nothing turns.
4. Cut Divide it wherever your hand stops, and set the halves back the other way.
5. Cut-Invert The same cut, but the half you lift is turned end for end first.
6. Invert The whole deck turned end for end. Every card the other way up.
7. Back Returns to the tone.
8. Deal Deals the reading from the top of the deck as you have left it.

The backs of the cards look the same either way up, so the reversed count is the only way to know how the deck lies.

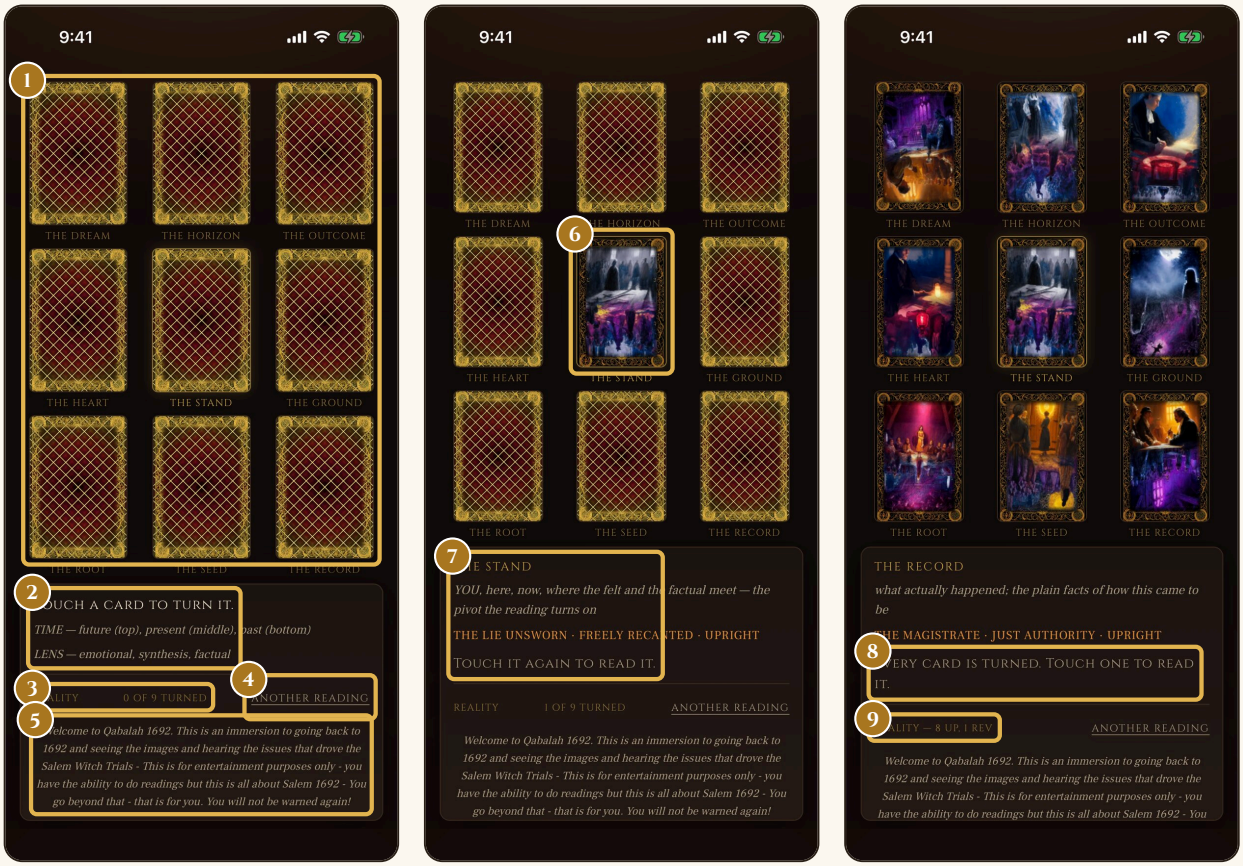

Working the deck

Mix, settled. Cut: choosing where. Cut, done.

1. The operation Its name and what it does.
2. The deck All 78 cards, moving as the operation is performed on them.
3. Where it stands How many cards lie reversed once the operation has finished.
4. Done Returns to the deck.
5. Again Performs the same operation once more.
6. Choosing a cut For Cut and Cut-Invert the deck is spread out: drag your finger across it, and lift it to cut at that card.
7. The count It follows your finger: Cut after 39 cards — 39 beneath.

The table

Face down. One card turned. Every card turned.

1. The spread The cards lie face down in the spread's own shape — here the Salem Nine's 3×3 — each named by its seat.
2. What to do The instructions, and for the Salem Nine how to read the grid: TIME — future (top), present (middle), past (bottom) and LENS — emotional, synthesis, factual.
3. Tone and progress The tone you chose, and how many cards are turned.
4. Another reading Ends this reading and returns to the home screen.
5. The welcome The entertainment notice.
6. A turned card Touch a card to turn it. Touch it again to open it.
7. What you turned The seat, what the seat means, and the card: its name, its keyword and which way up it lies.
8. All turned Every card is turned. Touch one to read it.
9. The tone's balance Once every card is turned, how many lie upright and how many reversed.

The centre seat of the Salem Nine, The Stand, is the pivot: YOU, here, now, where the felt and the factual meet — the pivot the reading turns on.

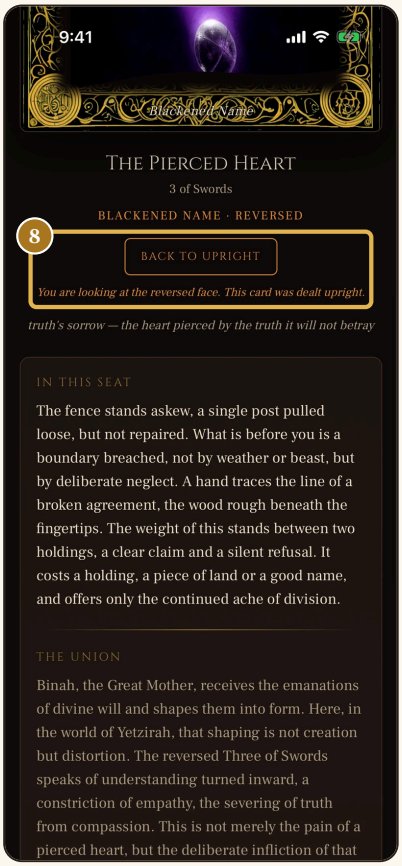

The card

Opened from the table.

Scrolled down.

Looking at the other face.

1. ‹ The spread Returns to the table. So does the Back to the table button at the very bottom.
2. The seat Which seat this card lies in, and what that seat means.
3. The card Touch it to fill the screen.
4. Its names The card's 1692 name, its formal name, and its keyword with the way up it was dealt.
5. Show it reversed Shows the card's other face, with that face's words. It is only a look: the reading does not change.
6. In this seat What this card says in this seat.
7. The Union The card's own interpretation.
8. Back to upright While you look at the other face, the app reminds you which way the card was actually dealt. Touch to turn it back.

Cards that name a person of 1692 also show who they were, with their dates. Every deal is different: the third picture comes from a different reading than the first two.

The card, full screen

Portrait.

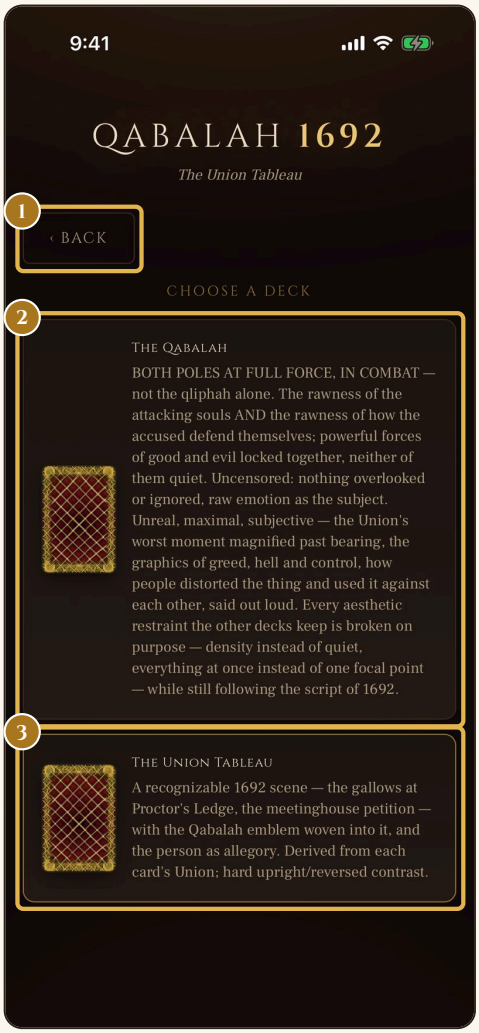

Turned sideways: the picture stretches to the screen.

1 The way back Drag the card to turn it in the light. Tap to go back to where you were.

Nothing else is on this screen: it is for looking at the painting. Turned sideways, with Graphics on Float or Spectrum, the picture and its frame stretch to fill the whole screen. Turn the device first, then open the card.

Choose a Deck

1. ‹ Back Returns to the home screen without changing the deck.
2. The Qabalah The second deck, with its own description. In its own words: Uncensored: nothing overlooked or ignored, raw emotion as the subject. Read the description before you choose it.
3. The Union Tableau The deck the app starts on, outlined to show it is in use.

Touch a deck to use it; the app returns to the home screen, where the deck's name now shows under the title and on the Choose a Deck tile. Every screen that shows a card then uses that deck's pictures. The choice lasts until the app is closed.

View the Deck Cards

All 78, upright.

All 78, reversed.

A card opened from the deck.

1. ‹ Back Returns to the home screen.
2. Show them reversed / upright Turns the whole deck over, so every card shows its other face. A card you open stays that way up.
3. Roll the deck A card at random, its Union spoken — all 78, no repeats, then shuffled again.
4. A card Each card shows its 1692 name. Touch one to open it.
5. ‹ The deck Returns to the cards.
6. The card Touch to fill the screen.

An opened card shows the card on its own — its names, its keyword, who it is in 1692 where it names someone, The Card (its reading) and The Union. There is no seat here, because nothing has been dealt. Just below the card's names, Show it reversed shows its other face and that face's words.

Roll the deck

As it plays.

After a tap.

1. What is being read The card's 1692 name, which way up it lies, and what is being read — here, its Union.
2. The hint Tap for the controls · swipe to move through the cards
3. Pause Holds the reading; it becomes Continue.
4. Stop Ends the roll and returns to the deck's cards.

A card is chosen at random and its Union is read aloud; when the reading ends, the next card comes up. All 78 are rolled without repeating, then the deck is shuffled and it begins again. If Audio was Off, starting the roll turns it to All, because the roll is narration.

Qabalah History

The four streams.

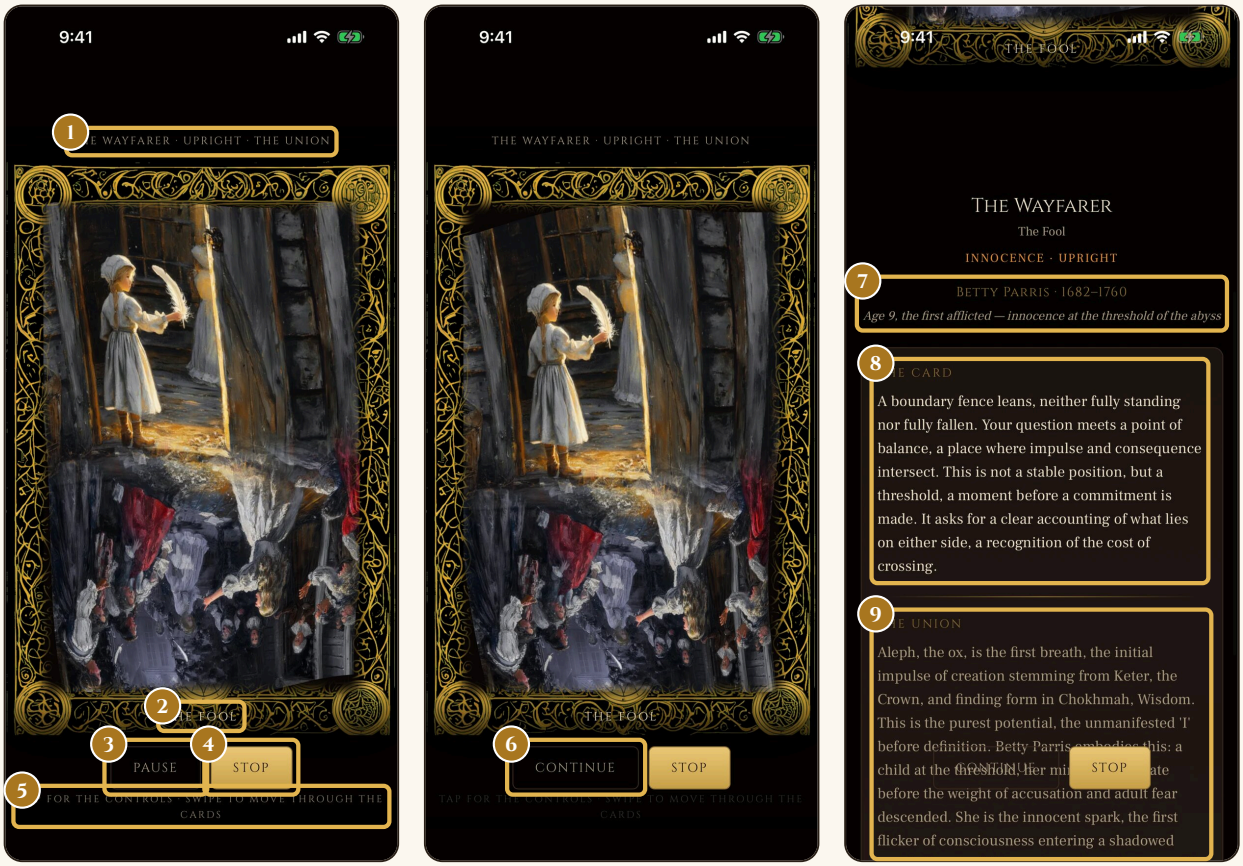

Coming back to a stream.

1. ‹ Back Returns to the home screen.
2. Everything The Unions, then the Card Readings, then the Salem Nine — the Fool onward. (1,716)
3. The Unions Each card's own interpretation. The longest readings in the deck. (156)
4. The Card Readings Each card upright, then reversed, on its own. (156)
5. The Salem Nine Every card read in each of the nine seats, the centre first. (1,404)
6. Where you were When you have left a stream part-way, touching it again tells you where you stopped.
7. Restart Starts that stream from the beginning.
8. Continue Carries on from where you stopped.

The number on each stream is how many entries it plays.

Listening to a stream

After a tap. Paused. Scrolled down to the words.

1. What is being read The card's 1692 name, which way up it lies, and what is being read: The Union, the reading, or a seat of the Salem Nine.
2. The card's name Written at the foot of the card.
3. Pause Holds the reading where it is.
4. Stop Ends the stream and returns to the four streams.
5. The hint Tap for the controls; swipe to move through the cards.
6. Continue Carries on from where you paused.
7. Who it is Where the card names a person of 1692: who they were, with their dates.
8. The Card The card's reading.
9. The Union The card's own interpretation.

How a stream moves. Each entry is read aloud over its card; when the reading ends, the next card comes up. Swipe left for the next card and right for the one before. Tap to show Pause and Stop; they fade after a few seconds unless the stream is paused. Scroll down to read the words being spoken. When a stream reaches its end, it starts again from the beginning.

Turned sideways (left), the card stretches to the screen from the next card on.

On iPad

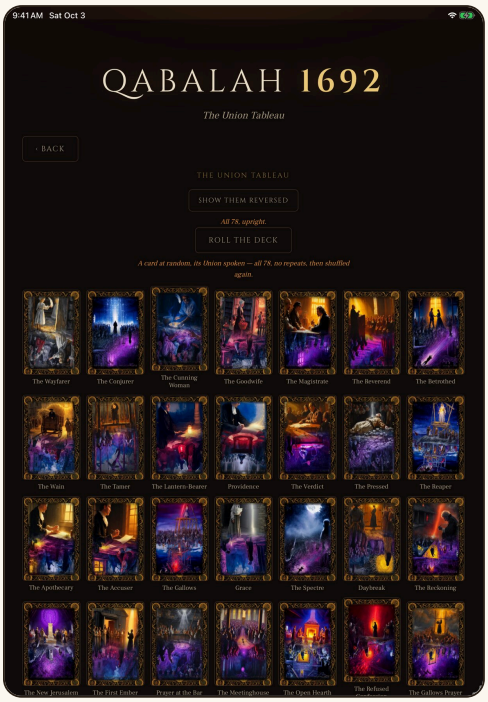

Home: everything fits on one screen.

The Salem Nine, every card turned.

An opened card.

The deck's cards, seven to a row.

The iPad shows the same screens and the same controls, laid out for the larger display. The iPad can be used in any orientation, including upside down; the iPhone in portrait and either landscape.

Part 3 — Every control

Each control in the app, where it is, and exactly what it does. The pictures are taken from the screens in Part 2.

On the home screen

Do a Reading

Home

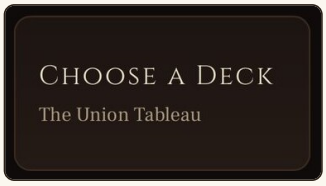

Opens Choose your spread. Each reading begins with a fresh deck.

Qabalah History

Home

Opens the four streams of the deck read aloud.

Choose a Deck

Home — shows the deck in use

Opens the deck chooser. The name under the tile is the deck now in use.

View the Deck Cards

Home

Opens all 78 cards, face up.

Audio — four settings, in turn

Each touch moves to the next setting: All, Reading, Qabalah, Off, then All again. The tile names the setting and says what it does. Changing it stops whatever is being read at that moment. The setting is remembered.

All — Says everything — the cards are read aloud in full.

Reading — Says only the reading, in its seat.

Qabalah — Says only The Union.

Off — Off — read them yourself.

Qabalah History and Roll the deck are narration: starting either while Audio is Off sets it to All.

Graphics — three settings, in turn

Each touch moves to the next: Float, Spectrum, Straight, then Float again. The setting is remembered, and the cards on screen change at once.

Float (the setting it starts on) — The painting, given depth. The pictures move gently.

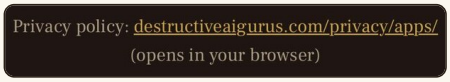

Spectrum — Float, and each colour lights itself. The colour light shows where a card is drawn large; small cards look as they do in Float.

Straight — The painting, as painted. Still pictures, with no effects.

About this app

Home — scroll down on iPhone

Opens the About screen.

Licence agreement

About this app

Opens the licence agreement.

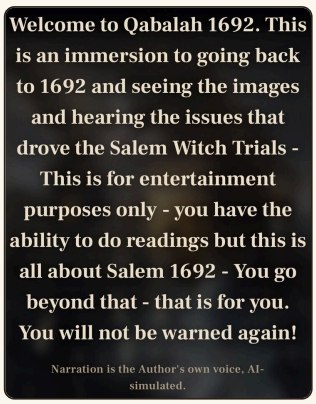

Privacy policy

About this app

Opens the apps' privacy policy, destructiveaigurus.com/privacy/apps/, in your browser.

Opening the app

I agree

The opening screen — the first time

Tap I agree to accept the licence. Touch licence to read the agreement first. Only I agree goes on; it is asked again only if the licence changes.

The opening screen

Each time the app opens

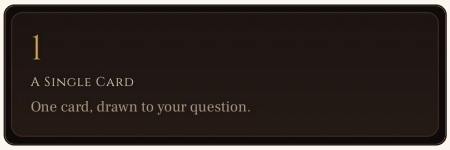

Once the licence is accepted: touch anywhere to go to the home screen. While Audio is on, the screen stays up until the welcome has been read aloud, unless you touch it.

Going back

On this screen	The control	Where it goes
About this app	‹ Back	Home
The licence agreement	‹ Back	About — or the opening screen, when opened from there
Choose your spread	‹ Back	Home
The spread's panel	Back	Home
Ask into 1692	Back	The spread's panel
The tone	— none —	Choose a tone and take the deck
The deck is in your hands	Back	The tone
A deck operation	Done	The deck
The table	Another reading	Home — the reading ends
The card	‹ (the spread's name), or Back to the table	The table
The card, full screen	Tap	Where you were
Choose a Deck	‹ Back, or touching a deck	Home

View the Deck Cards	‹ Back	Home
A card from the deck	‹ The deck	The deck's cards
Roll the deck	Stop	The deck's cards
Qabalah History	‹ Back	Home
A stream	Stop	The four streams

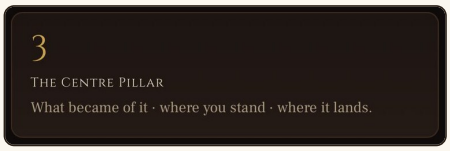

Doing a reading

A Single Card

Choose your spread

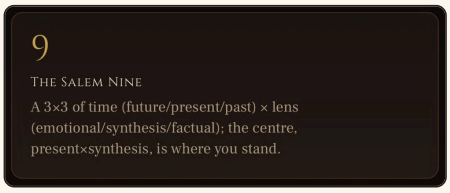

Deals one card. One card, drawn to your question.

The Centre Pillar

Choose your spread

Deals three cards in a row. What became of it · where you stand · where it lands.

The Salem Nine

Choose your spread

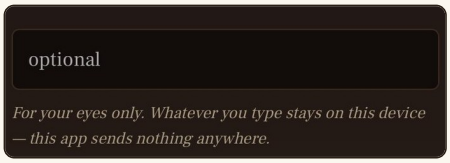

Deals nine cards in a 3×3 grid. Its seats, top row first: The Dream, The Horizon, The Outcome, The Heart, The Stand, The Ground, The Root, The Seed, The Record. The centre, The Stand, is the pivot.

Back · I understand

The spread's panel — scroll down

Back returns to the home screen. I understand goes on to your question. The panel is shown before every reading.

The question field

Ask into 1692

Optional. Type a question if it helps you hold it, or leave it empty: You do not have to type it. Hold it steady and clear enough that you would recognise its shape when the cards turn.

Back · The deck is ready

Ask into 1692

Back returns to the spread's panel. The deck is ready goes on to the tone.

The five tones

How much shadow

Touch a tone to choose it; it lights, and its line appears below. Reality is chosen to begin with. Reality deals the cards as your deck work left them; the others turn over as few dealt cards as they need to. All five are listed in the Appendix.

Take the deck

How much shadow

Goes on to the deck. This screen has no Back button.

Mix

The deck is in your hands

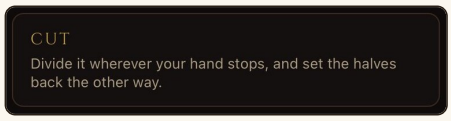

Every card loose on the table, turned about under both hands. Opens the operation, which runs on its own; when it settles, choose Done or Again.

Shuffle

The deck is in your hands

Split it and let the two halves fall together. Nothing turns. Opens the operation, which runs on its own; when it settles, choose Done or Again.

Cut

The deck is in your hands

Divide it wherever your hand stops, and set the halves back the other way. The deck is spread out: drag your finger across it and lift to cut. The count follows your finger.

Cut-Invert

The deck is in your hands

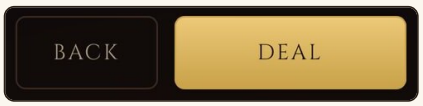

The same cut, but the half you lift is turned end for end first. Chosen the same way as Cut.

Invert

The deck is in your hands

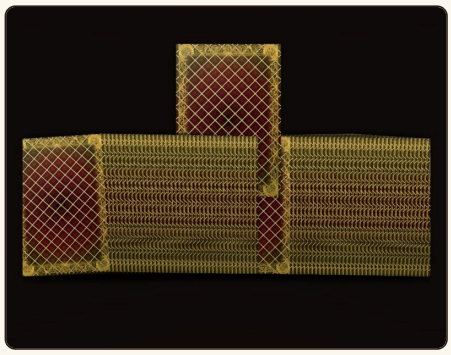

The whole deck turned end for end. Every card the other way up.

Back · Deal

The deck is in your hands

Back returns to the tone. Deal lays the reading from the top of the deck as you have left it.

Choosing a cut

Cut and Cut-Invert

Drag across the spread; the card under your finger lifts, and the count below follows it. Lift your finger to cut there.

Done · Again

After any operation

Done returns to the deck, which now records what you did. Again performs the same operation once more.

A card on the table

The table

Face down, touch it to turn it. Turned, touch it again to open it. While a card is turning, a second touch is ignored.

Another reading

The table

Ends the reading and returns to the home screen. The next reading starts with a fresh deck.

‹ The spread

The card

Returns to the table, with every card as you left it. Back to the table, at the bottom of the card, does the same.

The card itself

The card

Touch it to fill the screen.

Show it reversed · Show it upright

The card

Shows the card's other face and that face's words — the seat text and The Union change with it. It is only a look: the reading is not changed.

Back to upright · Back to reversed

The card, while you look at the other face

Turns the card back to the way it was dealt. The line beneath says which face you are looking at, and how the card was dealt.

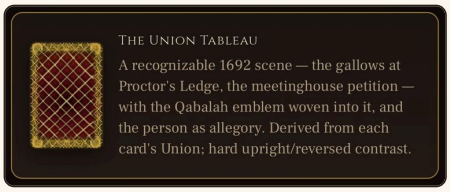

Drag · Tap

The card, full screen

Drag turns the card in the light. Tap goes back to where you were.

Choosing a deck

A deck

Choose a Deck

Touch a deck to use it and return to the home screen. The deck in use is outlined. The choice lasts until the app is closed.

The deck's cards

Show them reversed · Show them upright

View the Deck Cards

Turns all 78 over. A card you open afterwards keeps the same face. Leaving the screen turns them upright again.

Roll the deck

View the Deck Cards

A card at random, its Union spoken — all 78, no repeats, then shuffled again. Pause and Stop work as in Qabalah History; Stop returns here.

A card

View the Deck Cards

Touch to open it.

‹ The deck

A card from the deck

Returns to the cards.

Qabalah History

A stream

Qabalah History

Touch to start it. If you left it part-way, it asks whether to start again or carry on. The number is how many entries it plays.

Restart · Continue

Qabalah History, coming back to a stream

Restart plays the stream from the beginning. Continue carries on from where you stopped.

Pause · Continue · Stop

While a stream plays — tap to show them

Pause holds the reading and becomes Continue. Stop ends the stream and returns to the four streams. The buttons fade after a few seconds, unless the stream is paused.

Tap · Swipe · Scroll

While a stream plays

Tap shows the controls. Swipe left for the next card, right for the one before; the new card is read at once. Scroll down for the words being read. A stray touch never stops the stream: only Stop does.

Appendix

The tones

Tone	In the app's words
Harmony	every card upright — the reading is asked to keep its light
Hope	two in three upright — shadow present, but outnumbered
Reality	an honest coin for each card — it falls where it falls
Disturbing	two in three reversed — the shadow has the floor
Darkness	every card reversed — the reading is asked for its worst

The spreads

Spread	Cards	In the app's words
A Single Card	1	One card, drawn to your question.
The Centre Pillar	3	What became of it · where you stand · where it lands.
The Salem Nine	9	A 3×3 of time (future/present/past) × lens (emotional/synthesis/factual); the centre, present×synthesis, is where you stand.

Words the app uses

The Union	Each card's own interpretation — the longest readings in the deck.
The Card	The card's reading on its own, outside any seat.
In this seat	What the card says in the seat it was dealt to.
Seat	A position in a spread, with its own name and meaning.
Upright · Reversed	Which way up a card lies. Each way has its own keyword and words.
Tone	How much shadow the reading is asked to face — from Harmony to Darkness.
Pivot	The Salem Nine's centre seat, The Stand: the pivot the reading turns on.

If something is not right

- No sound. Check the Audio tile on the home screen is not on Off, and turn the volume up. The silent switch does not stop the narration.
- A stream or roll keeps going when I put the phone down. That is what it is for — only Stop ends it. Use Pause to hold it.
- The deck changed back to The Union Tableau. The deck choice lasts until the app is closed.
- The app says "The deck could not be loaded. Please reinstall the app." Delete the app and install it again.
- Reporting a problem. The last lines of About this app give the deck bundle's generation and build date; include them.

Privacy and AI

Everything happens on your device. This app asks for no permissions, holds no accounts, and sends nothing anywhere. Because some US states require it, the app may also ask Apple for your age range (Apple may ask you to share it). The answer stays on your iPhone or iPad, is used for nothing else, and is not kept.

AI Generation
Narration in this app is the Author's own voice, AI-simulated — produced with permission from the Author's own recordings.
The illustrated artwork in this app is AI-generated.

Welcome to Qabalah 1692. This is an immersion to going back to 1692 and seeing the images and hearing the issues that drove the Salem Witch Trials - This is for entertainment purposes only - you have the ability to do readings but this is all about Salem 1692 - You go beyond that - that is for you. You will not be warned again!

About this guide

The pictures in this guide were taken from Qabalah 1692 version 1.0 (build 4) for About and the licence agreement, and from version 0.1.0 — build 3 for the opening screen and Ask into 1692, build 1 for the rest, whose screens did not change — with deck bundle generation 25, running on iPhone 17 Pro and iPad Air 11-inch (M4) simulators with iOS 26.5. Every deal is different, so the cards shown will differ from yours. Card art, names and words in the pictures are the app's own.